

CeBIT 2006 – Hanover – from March 9 - 15, 2006

SAP consultancy itelligence AG and WSW Software GmbH make public their cooperative arrangement

SAP-integrated EDI solution based on NetWeaver XI for the automotive industry

Bielefeld, Germany, March 9, 2006 – itelligence, one of the most successful IT full-service providers in the SAP environment, and WSW Software GmbH, the automotive specialist for EDI process integration, will for the first time be presenting their joint, all-encompassing EDI solution for the automotive industry in Hall 4, D38 at the CeBIT 2006 in Hanover, Germany. With the help of the SAP-certified EDI converter it.x-change from itelligence AG and the WSW product SPEEDI, which has already established itself in the market, companies integrated into an SAP environment can exchange electronic messages in compliance with the EDIFACT, VDA, Odette or ANSI X12 standards. SPEEDI thereby supports optimal process integration and visualization in SAP.

Using it.x-change, as an element of SAP NetWeaver XI, eliminates the need for an additional non-SAP EDI converter. Thus, users have a speedy and slim software application available which is completely integrated into SAP – one that can be installed in an existing SAP landscape with few modifications. The advantage: after the rapid implementation, the exchange of data between the business partners in the chain of suppliers under SAP proves to be quicker, more secure and less expensive.

Franz Grad of WSW explains “The interactivity of SPEEDI, SAP NetWeaver XI and it.x-change provides for a successful solution built on outstanding technology components. For our customers in the automotive field this means seamless EDI and SAP automotive process integration.”

Markus Kellermeyer, Technology Consulting management adds “itelligence views this partnership as not only providing us with the advantage of a broader solution presence in the automotive sector, yet also the synergy effects which derive from the linking of SPEEDI and it.x-change and from the joint development of mappings for message types required by the market.”

itelligence Press Release

SAP consultancy itelligence AG and WSW Software GmbH make public their cooperative arrangement
SAP-integrated EDI solution based on NetWeaver XI for the automotive industry

it.x-change “Powered by SAP NetWeaver” it.x-change was developed completely on the basis of SAP NetWeaver XI. With its certification, SAP AG validates the technically problem-free integration of the EDI solution from itelligence into the SAP NetWeaver environment as XI content with access via the SAP Enterprise Portal.

The central installation based on SAP standard technology, the high data throughput – thanks to the implementation of performance-related routines in ABAP code – and the easy possibility for customers to make modifications themselves to communications partner profiles and message types have proven to be advantageous with it.x-change. Furthermore, no additional EDI subsystems or other server systems are necessary.
